FEATURE ARTICLE

Proud American Young Men and Women of our Masonic Youth

by: "Dad" Walter Lord, Chairman of High Plains Chapter Order of DeMolay

Recently a United States Marine Corporal Larry Donnell Harris was lost in combat in Afghanistan. He was rescuing a wounded comrade and while exiting the gun battle, succumbed to an IED. The injured comrade survived. At Larry's funeral he was awarded the Purple Heart! He was an outstanding bright young man and an American Hero. He had only been married four months to a Parker, Colorado young lady. His wife and her family are very prominent upstanding citizens of Parker.

One Adviser in the Chapter challenged the DeMolays and "Sweetheart" to gather items for a care package for the Marine Unit. The Adviser would mail the care packages! That said the young men and sweetheart gathered enough to send 7 large boxes to the Marine unit in care of:

Cpl Ian C. Gilbert
3rd BN 1st Mar WPNS
Unit 40240
FPO AP 96427-0240.

We are proud of our fine young citizens in these Masonic organizations!

Dues notices were mailed from the Supreme Council and many members have already remitted for the coming year. If you have not received yours, phone the Denver Consistory office at 303-861-4261 to correct any problems that may exist in your mailing address, or for any other problems that you might have. Thank you for all that have responded, especially those who included additional contributions.

The Denver Broncos schedule has started, but thankfully, their only Monday night game is out of town and is not on the third Monday (stated meeting night) of November. Unfortunately, the Colorado Rockies will not have any conflicting games either. Since those distractions don't exist, mark your calendar to attend our stated meetings. Important information that affects your membership is discussed at each one, and you should know about it.

The October Stated Meeting will be interesting for you, because the Secretary (me) will be out of town. Come support the fill-in and let me know what he does that makes the meeting more interesting. Centennial Lodge of Perfection has been working on a new program to help you understand the importance of the Feast of Tishri. Chef Michael's beef tips make this a "don't miss" meeting with a hundred or so of your closest friends. Sorry I can't be there.

For the November Meeting, the Rose Croix officer line has arranged a new program to recognize and honor our military members/veterans and our civilian emergency responders. In December new officers will be elected and appointed so that they can be installed at the January meeting. The January meeting will also have the annual meetings of our corporations and other annual reports to keep you informed about your Denver Consistory.

The Fall 2010 Reunion will be dedicated to the memory of Dwight Hamilton, 33°, our former Sovereign Grand Inspector General. It will have several unique features, including a Wednesday night program at Children's Hospital. Friday night will be a unique event as well, because an expanded presentation of the 29th degree to our candidates will be open to the public, including candidates' wives/families and guests of members. Bring your own family to see the quality of work that our degree teams perform each reunion. Speaking of reunions, we need to have more petitions to expand the class. Now would be a good time to talk to your prospects again and urge them to expand their knowledge of Freemasonry.

The Traditional Oktoberfest celebration will be held on Monday, October 11th at the El Jebel Shrine Center located at 4625 W. 50th Avenue. Denver Consistory and the Knights of St. Andrew will join with El Jebel Shrine in sponsoring this evening of authentic German food, drink, music and fun. Phone the Shrine at 303-455-3470 to make your reservations. I hope to see you, your lady and guest there.

Denver Consistory Site Coordinator

It's never too late to let us know you want to volunteer. I have two assistant coordinators again this year. If you are a non-medical volunteer – the primary point of contact is Jack White up in our northern part of the state - jacques611@msn.com - (970) 402-3866 (cell). If you have a medical background (EMT, First Aid, Doctor, Nurse, Medical Assistant, etc) – the primary point of contact is Fred Runyan - Fred.Runyan@kiewit.com - (303) 204-4307 down in Centennial. I am, of course, the backup for both of them – wa3h@hotmail.com 303-494-0384.

Now, we have a favor to ask – when you want to volunteer, don't just walk up to us and verbally let us know – we're all getting a little older and memory is not what it used to be. We need to either have some sort of written note to remind us, or a voice-mail or text message or email – that way, there is NO ambiguity and no confusion about WHO talked to us. And, please do NOT wait until the last minute to let us know. We have to plan well in advance for numbers as well as the logistics to support all the volunteers it takes to put on these fairs.

We sincerely appreciate your help, and I'm sure the community participants who take advantage of our fairs do so as well.

OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

(FOR THE FIRST TIME EVER)

Come see the 29th Degree of the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry being performed for the Class of New Members with costumes, an elaborate set and with appropriate sound and lighting in the historic auditorium.

Bring your friends, family and prospects to witness a presentation of the 29th degree by an award-winning cast. This cast was recognized as the best degree presentation at the Scottish Rite Southwest Regional Reunion in Scottsdale, Arizona in May, 2010. Additional cast and music have been added to this performance.

 CANCELLED *****

Admission to the 7:15 p.m. performance is free.

Friday, November 12, 2010

1370 Grant Street, Denver, Colorado

Before the performance, dinner will be available at 6:00 p.m. for $15 per person in the lower level dining room, however, reservations for dinner are required and can be made by phoning 303-861-4261 at least two days prior to the performance.

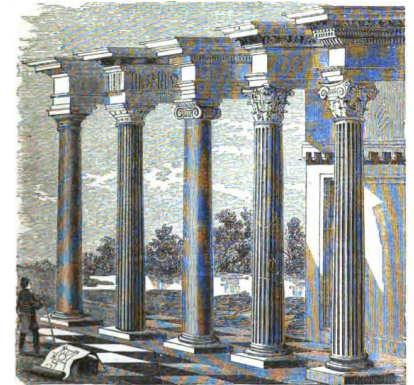

morals as every other generation. They have the same questions and the same yearning. But they were born, raised and taught in a different world; one which included computers, the internet and lots of color and action. If our goal is to teach these men self improvement, then we need to rethink how we do this. And we need to realize that many men fit a different set of plans.

We should provide as many opportunities as we can for the newly made brethren to look over, choose from and progress with – all within boundaries set by our ritual, principles and goals, and doing so with the most modern equipment and themes we can.

The simple working tools we learn so much about in the Blue Lodge degrees do a good job roughing out our stony exterior, but it is the higher lessons that really teach us about the internal. And that is what is found in the Scottish Rite. Only so much can be gleaned from old encyclopedias, deep musky books and unreadable manuscripts. The rest of the shaping comes from personal interaction with what you have been taught, a mindset that aims high and being with like minded men.

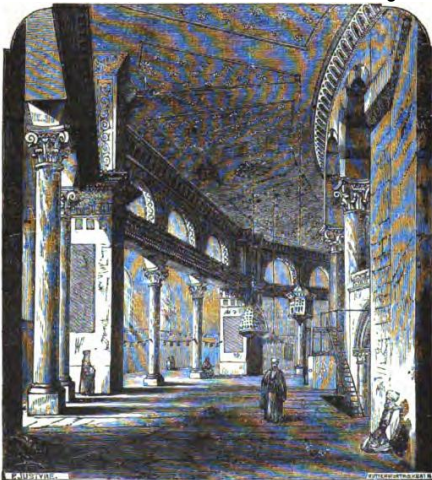

All this may sound foreign to some. So let's look at what is taught about building in the early degrees. Take the five columns as an example. Each of the five shows us a progression, but also variety. They are each different from each other. They all seem to work well. Some are a little more fancy or associated with a certain building phase; but that is all. Is one of the five ways of architecture better than the rest? No.

Between the Columns

by Michael D. Moore, 32°

What kind of stone are you?

A stone building is made up of many different kinds of stones. They do not all look alike nor work the same. It has wall stones, much larger foundation stones, corner stones, cap stones, door frames, window sills, decorative and carved stones in it.

Freemasonry builds individually, with stones and men. One at a time, each is proofed, measured and gauged. The stone squarers did the same thing when working with the raw material; each in his own way following the prescribed end result and each stone for its own special purpose. And when these were ready, they were stacked one upon the other to build.

So often we specialize in rectangles and cubes. These are very important building parts, but in a larger setting we need more than these. For this reason we should not use the cookie cutter approach to Masons. Sometimes fellow Brothers look different than the rest and just don't fit the mold set by previous generations.

This is all right. The modern man who seeks admission to come into our fraternity has the same goals as those of us who came before them, the same seeking for a higher form of human development and the same

Now is the time to start collecting / submitting those petitions for the 37th Consecutive Fall Reunion to be held November 11-13, 2010. We have a goal of 100 members over the next 12 months. It is going to take all of us to reach this goal!

Knights of St. Andrew

by Rich Silver, 32°

The real questions to ask: Is Freemasonry changing you? Has it made an impact recently? How far are you in the process of change that comes with internalizing the philosophical and moral principles? We realize that each of us are at different points along the process to make us fit, square and useful. But is it working? And finally, what kind of stone are you? The answers to these questions go a long way in knowing how the fraternity is adding to you and what level of involvement you are finding with it.

As mentioned last month, the Knights are working to establish a meeting time apart from the Stated Meetings. We have a meeting scheduled for Monday, October 4th at 7:00 PM at the Consistory. There will be a knighting of up to four new Knights at this meeting. We would like to have a good turnout for this meeting so we can plan for a regular meeting time and make other plans for the remainder of the year.

Plans for the 2011 Robert Burns Dinner are underway. The dinner will be held on January 29, 2011 at El Jebel. This is the primary fund raising event for the KSA and is always a fun evening with a great meal. Please mark your calendars now and plan to attend. Remember, the Burns dinner is not limited to KSA members, so invite your friends.

Have you ordered your KSA polo or hat? We now have polo shirts and KSA hats available in a variety of colors. The KSA logo has been digitized and it came out great. The shirts and hats are available to all Knights and alumni.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Grand Lodge of Colorado, the Orient of Colorado and Southern Colorado Consistory have arranged for Illustrious Brother Art De Hoyos, 33°, Grand Cross, to come to the stated meeting of Southern Colorado Consistory, 1150 Panorama Drive, Colorado Springs, at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 6 to share his studies, stories, and experiences. Brother De Hoyos, Grand Archivist & Grand Historian, is a widely known Masonic author from the Supreme Council office. This rare opportunity is being made available to ALL MASTER MASONS in an open meeting. Gather your Brothers and Scottish Rite prospects and bring a carload. A meal is available at 6:30 p.m. but requires an RSVP to 719-471-7966.

Just My Opinion ...

by D. J. Cox, 32° KCCH

I curiously wonder what causes people to do, or not to do, certain things. Is it motivation or reward; both; neither?

The Encarta dictionary defines motivation (noun) as “giving of reason to act: the act of giving somebody a reason or incentive to do something; or, enthusiasm: a feeling of enthusiasm, interest or commitment that makes somebody want to do something, or something that causes such a feeling; or, reason: a reason for doing something or behaving in a particular way.” To me, this is a mental and/or emotional action.

The Encarta dictionary defines reward (verb) as “give somebody something as reward: to give somebody something in return, especially in thanks for kindness or help; or, repay effort: to be worth the effort or attention that is given.” To me, this is a physical action.

I listen to brethren using these two (2) words interchangeably or as mutually exclusive. In my personal philosophy, I find that they actually work quite well when used together. The mental (motivation) is necessary for the action to be undertaken; the physical is often necessary for progress and success.

The Scottish Rite has many challenges, not the least of which is membership. But hearing about the subject grows boring, cumbersome and deflating for many. It becomes a so-called impossible task supported by numerous excuses. The challenge becomes one of motivation and reward. We must find the proper motivation for our Consistory. We must also find the proper reward. To be successful is no longer enough.

Our multiple generations are not on the same page very often it seems. The expectation and rewards of our older members do not meet the techno-savvy expectations of our younger members and prospective members. I think the future lies with our youth and their leaders, but we cannot forget to include our experienced and wise mature generation. We have to bridge the gap, trust in the strength of the fraternity and make the tough decisions. Some people will not like the actions taken but we can't let these few serve as obstacles of change and progress. The Great Architect of the Universe cannot solve all our problems for us. We must put our mental and physical capabilities to bear and directly confront this issue. Anyway, that's my opinion.

$30,000 in Scholarships Awarded to Five Outstanding Graduate Students

by Vernon B. Ingraham, 33°, Grand Cross
Executive Secretary
Scottish Rite Foundation of Colorado

The September 20th Stated Meeting program for Denver Consistory was devoted to the annual Scottish Rite Foundation program honoring the 2010 graduate student scholarship recipients. The speech pathology scholarship recipients received their awards during the summer for the following scholarships:

- Two $5,000 Dwight A. Hamilton/Scottish Rite Foundation Graduate Scholarships in Speech-Language Pathology (The Hamilton Scholarship is administered by the Scottish Rite Foundation.)
- Two $5,000 Colorado Masons' Benevolent Fund Association Graduate Scholarships in Speech-Language Pathology (The Benevolent Fund Scholarship is administered by the Scottish Rite Foundation with funds gifted to the Foundation for this purpose.)
- Two $5,000 Sam and Millie Hilburn Scholarships in the Field of Childhood Language Disorders (The Hilburn Scholarship is administered by the Supreme Council of the Southern Jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite.)

These scholarships are awarded to help students with paying the high cost of graduate work and to encourage more students to enter the speech pathology career field. Critical shortages of speech pathologists exist in most geographic areas of the state and the nation and especially in rural and underserved communities. The Hamilton Scholarship and the Benevolent Fund Scholarship are designed to address needs in Colorado by awarding students who intend to remain in Colorado. In addition, these students must have completed their first year of graduate studies with a GPA of 3.5 or higher in order to be eligible to apply.

Hamilton Scholarship

The Hamilton Scholarship, a one-time $5,000 scholarship, was created by the Scottish Rite Foundation in 2005 in honor of Ill. Bro. Dwight A. Hamilton, the former Sovereign Grand Inspector General in Colorado. As of 2010, twelve individuals have received this scholarship. Eleven scholarships have been awarded to University of Colorado-Boulder graduate students and one scholarship has been awarded to a University of Northern Colorado graduate student.

Benevolent Fund Scholarship

In 2003 the Colorado Masons' Benevolent Fund Association partnered with the Scottish Rite Foundation by awarding graduate student speech pathology scholarships to students at UNC. In 2007 the Association made a gift of $50,000 to the Foundation for scholarships to UNC graduate students over a 5-year period beginning in 2008. These scholarships are made in the name of the Association. As of 2010, sixteen scholarships have been awarded to UNC graduate students.

Hilburn Scholarship

In 1999 the Supreme Council of the Southern Jurisdiction of the Scottish Rite initiated a speech pathology graduate student scholarship with an endowment from Sam and Millie Hilburn of Texas. Ill. Bro. Sam was a former SGIG in Texas. The Hilburn scholarship is open to all graduate students in speech-language pathology throughout the United States for study at schools within the country. Scholarships are offered at $5,000 per year for a maximum of two years of graduate study. In 2010, there were 58 applicants for this scholarship. Five students across the nation received the scholarship, two of whom are at the University of Colorado. Since 1999, four Colorado graduate students have received this scholarship; three for $5,000 and one for $10,000.

2010 Hamilton Scholarship Recipients

Hannah Shippey was born and raised in Denver and attended Denver public schools. Hannah's specific areas of interest include autism spectrum, motor speech, and expressive and receptive language. She states, "I believe that early intervention for children with special needs is crucial to their future academic success. I plan to begin my career in the Denver Public Schools, as they currently suffer from a shortage of Speech-Language Pathologists."

Rebecca McNeil spent nearly 15 years in marketing consulting in New York City before deciding to return to graduate school to pursue her interest in child speech and language. Most recently, she was a trainer at the Talking with Technology camp which is conducted by The Children's Hospital and supported by the Foundation. Becky states, "I look forward to beginning my work in Colorado. My father, Harry McNeil, himself a Mason for over 50 years in New Hampshire, instilled in me a commitment to place and cause."

2010 Benevolent Fund Scholarship Recipients

In 2003, Natasha Maria left her career in law enforcement and opened a home childcare business so she could spend more time with her child. She became interested in speech language pathology when she attended a training seminar for daycare licensing. Upon graduation from UNC, she plans on working in an elementary school in Colorado. She says, "I am convinced this career path will bring great rewards as it provides me the opportunity to make a positive difference in children's lives."

Elisabeth Robertson embarked on a nine-year career of private voice teaching after receiving her previous graduate school education in music. After moving to Colorado in 2006, she took pre-requisite classes for the Masters in Speech-Language Pathology at UNC. It is her desire to continue to be a leader in the area of early childhood identification of children with speech and language disorders. Elisabeth states, “I am thrilled to remain and work in Fort Collins as a certified speech-language pathologist.”

2010 Hilburn Scholarship Recipients

Rebecca McNeil, a recipient of the 2010 Hamilton Scholarship from the Scottish Rite Foundation of Colorado, applied for the Hilburn Scholarship and received this award from the Supreme Council.

Christina Wilkins taught for three years as an elementary school teacher. Following her relocation to Boulder, she taught preschool full-time at CU’s Children Center before beginning her current graduate program. Tina states, “Personally, I have always been interested in speech pathology because my younger brother grew up stuttering and attending speech therapy in Vermont. Having that personal connection made me realize just how important a speech pathologist can be in both the life of a child and that of their family.”

The Scottish Rite Foundation of Colorado is a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit public charity dedicated to funding speech-language therapy for children in Colorado. The Foundation’s Tax ID is 84-6034299.

You are welcome to contact the foundation about services or making a gift by calling 303-861-2410 or e-mailing ritecare@scottishritefoundation.org. You may write the Foundation at 1370 Grant Street, Denver, CO 80203. Visit the foundation website at www.scottishritefoundation.org.
