EDITOR'S CORNER

BY: BILL HICKEY, 33°
EMAIL: WA3H@HOTMAIL.COM

I have a “mixed bag” for this month’s column. First, our Ill. Brother Jim Berardino, 33°, recently sent me an email with the simple text: “They changed Lives.” Under it, a URL for a Youtube presentation about some well-known (and some not-so-well-known) masons in history. Check out: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=48KDBB0aOHI> for yourselves. It’s only about 15 minutes of really interesting background information.

For those who missed the Egyptian Court of the Dead presentation we made to the public on the Friday of the last reunion, you missed a nearly FULL HOUSE in the cathedral. People were actually engaged in watching the entire play, and many stayed afterward to ask questions about Masonry, the Scottish Rite, and the building itself. It was NOT the 31st degree itself, but was the story used to illustrate the lessons of the degree.

Likewise, on Monday, my personal friend Brent Morris gave us two excellent talks - one being about the Post-Boy exposure, which was really about misdirection, misinformation, and deception to deflect attention away from what were considered “secrets.” The second topic was a thought-provoking discussion of membership trends observed from 1900-2000. While the numbers he used were obtained from Masonry and the Scottish Rite, it’s important to note that ALL social, fraternal, and professional organizations have experienced (and continue to do so) similar ups and downs in their membership numbers.

SO, if you didn't attend these two significant events this past month, you really missed out on something special. Which brings me to my final point for this month: our SGIG asked our NEW members what they expected from the Scottish Rite and what they wanted to contribute during his session at the reunion. How many of you know what our various committees are, who the chair is, and what they do? So, without further ado ...

Audio/Visual Committee: Donald T. Marshall, 33°, chairman

Class Committee: Michael D. Moore, 32° KCCH, chairman

Communications Committee: Phil Hause, 32° KCCH, chairman

Costumes Committee: David W. Powell, 33°, chairman

Degree Council: Ronald D. Birely, 33°, Director General (all degree directors belong)

IT Committee: Michael Brewer, 32° KCCH, chairman

Makeup Committee: Wesley L. Campbell, 33°, chairman

Music Committee: Marvin A. Feldman, 33°, director (includes Denver Consistory Brass)

Photography Committee: John A Moreno, 33°, chairman

Pipes and Drums of the Denver Consistory: Alexander J. McIntosh, 32° KCCH, Pipe Major

Properties/Stage Committee: Walter H. Martin, 33°, chairman

Publications Committee: William A. Hickey, 33°, chairman

So, as you can PLAINLY see from the list, there is plenty for you to choose from if you want to be more involved in the activities of the Denver Consistory. Just ask any of the chairmen, and they'll be glad to fill you in on what they do, what the commitment means, and what they need. There's really no reason to say you can't find anything to do.

And, while we're on the subject of committees needing help, we've posted "want ads" for various groups before - and we definitely need someone to step in and work on the PRINTED NEWSLETTER—whether it is as an editor or just a contributor - please consider this opportunity to pitch in and keep your brothers informed, enlightened, and entertained.

HELPING FUND THE SCOTTISH RITE MASONIC CENTER

Brothers: last month I wrote about a program (the King Soopers Scottish Rite Gift Card Program) that could make a substantial contribution to funding the ongoing maintenance of our beautiful Scottish Rite Masonic Center. Many of you responded so that we are now well on our way to making this program significant. More than sixty cards are now in circulation.

Remember, for every dollar of groceries or gasoline you charge on the gift card, 5% of that amount is paid over to the Scottish Rite Masonic Center by King Soopers. We can't lose, nor can you. And, it costs our members not a penny! It would be wonderful if we could double, triple, or more the participation of our members.

Audrey and Tom have cards available at the office. All you need to do is pick one up. Each card is pre-loaded with $10.00 of credit so that is what you will be asked to pay for it (CASH ONLY PLEASE!). Then, take the card to any King Soopers help desk and add whatever amount you wish UP TO A MAXIMUM of $500.00 at any one time. In turn, pay for your groceries and gas (at affiliated gas stations only) with the card and you will be making ongoing contributions to the Scottish Rite Masonic Center ... BUT AT NO COST TO YOU!

And remember, there is a second benefit to you. When you use the gift card, there is NO WAY that your credit card can be scammed because the gift card has NONE of your personal information on it.

GET YOUR GIFT CARD SOON so that you can be a part of preserving our facility.

THANK YOU MY BROTHERS.

The 48th Consecutive Reunion of Denver Consistory, dedicated to Illustrious Brother Robert Sage, 33°, was held May 12-14. We now have 14 new Masters of the Royal Secret. THANK YOU to everyone who helped make the Reunion a Success.

The SGIG recognized and thanked Illustrious Brother Charlie Schaeffer, 33°, for over 20 years of service to Denver Consistory as our organist. His tenure started out as a “one-time” gig, and soon turned into something a little more permanent. Thank you Charlie, your dedication is very much appreciated, as is the music you provide for the members of the Denver Consistory.

Amazon Smile Program - The Scottish Rite Masonic Center is a participant in the Amazon Smile Program. The SRMC will receive 1/2 of 1% of purchases made on Amazon. All you need to do when making a purchase is go to the Amazon Smile link and designate the Scottish Rite Masonic Center 1370 as the recipient. It's just that simple to help your Masonic Center.

The SGIG presented Double Eagle Collars to Illustrious Brothers Wayne Arner, 33°, Steve Hubbard, 33°, and Doctor David Powell, 33°, in recognition of the thousands of hours of service they have devoted to Denver Consistory. Our thanks and congratulations to each of them.

Illustrious Brother S. Brent Morris, 33° GC was our guest speaker at the May 16th Stated Meeting. His presentations, "The Curious Incident of the Exposure That Wasn't" and "Membership Trends from 1900-2000" were both entertaining and informative and enjoyed by all. He even entertained us with a card trick. Did anyone figure out how he got all those cards when he only started with four?

JUNE

Ever wonder where the names of our months came from? This is the sixth in a series that delves into the origins of the words we use for our months of the year.

The month of JUNE was named for the Roman goddess Juno, goddess of marriage and the wife of the supreme deity Jupiter. Also from the Latin word juvenis meaning "Young People."

June's birthstone is Alexandrite, Moonstone, or Pearl. Alexandrite is among the most valuable of semi-precious stones and varies in color from red, yellow, to green, to purple-ish hues. Moonstone is a gemstone of the feldspar family and has an opalescent, moon-like appearance. The pearl is symbolic of purity, protection, love, good luck, and monetary gain.

The June birth flowers are the Rose and Honeysuckle.

The zodiac signs for the month of May are GEMINI (until June 21) and CANCER (June 22 on).

YOU CALLED ME BROTHER!

The Craft is a society with secrets, but until recently, the public at large thought it was a secret society. The secrets must, and will, continue to be guarded, but a general understanding of what Masonry stands for and does is now becoming available to the ordinary citizen.

As a result, some of the old myths will be exploited, respect for our aims and activities will increase, and our numbers may grow - not because numbers as such matter, but because every additional citizen who joins and commits himself to a notable ethical movement brings added strength to society.

What, then, is the worthwhile contribution that one makes as a Mason?

To me, it is suggested in a story told by a Russian writer. He relates that a man is walking along and is accosted by another who asks him for alms. "I'm sorry, brother," is the reply, "I have nothing and cannot help you." "Don't worry," says the beggar, "you called me 'brother,' and that's enough!"

This is the first thing that Masons learn to do - to call each other "brother." They meet in fellowship. They commence work in harmony and conclude in peace. They have their honest differences, but respect each other the more highly for them. They see each other's virtues and with good humor tolerate each other's faults. Wherever they go, their unspoken motto echoes the words of Joseph, Et achai anochi mevakesh - "I go seeking my brethren" (Gen. 37:16). They KNOW one can depend upon a brother.

We are not angels - far from it - and at times our brotherliness is found wanting, but never should we let ourselves forget that it is goodly and pleasant to have a brother and to dwell in harmony.

But, more than this, even greater and far more momentous, we know that each fellow man is also a brother, and that to each fellow man one must be able to say:

"Brother, I acknowledge you. Brother, I trust you. Brother, you can rely on me. Brother, I honor your dignity. Brother, I respect your opinion. Brother, I rejoice in your success. Brother, I am happy at your joy. Brother, I feel your pain. Brother, I understand your need. Brother, I support your hand. Brother, the world needs you. Brother, I need you. Brother, even if I have nothing to give you, I call you 'BROTHER'."

Someone has described this as the age of the "unbrotherhood of man," and it is little wonder. There appears to be an epidemic of immorality wherever you turn. Injustice, exploitation, self-seeking, arrogance, callousness, corruption, victimization, viciousness, violence—no wonder the poet wrote, "A mighty wave of evil is passing over the world."

There is an old allegory in the Talmud (Gen.R. 8:5, etc.). It tells that before creating man, God called the angels together and asked their opinion on what He had in mind. "Shall I create man?" He asked them.

“Create him not!” said the angel of Justice. “He will be unjust towards his brother man; he will injure the weak and exploit the vulnerable!”

“Create him not!” said the angel of Peace, “He will stain the earth with the blood of his brothers; he will spread mischief and discord wherever he goes!”

“Create him not!” said the angel of Truth, “Though You create him in Your image and stamp the impress of truth on his brow, yet will he desecrate Your creation with falsehood and dishonesty!”

They would have said still more, but Mercy, the youngest and dearest of them all, stepped up to the Divine Throne and said, “Father, create him! Make him in Your image, as the crowning glory of Creation. When others forsake him, I will be with him. I will touch his heart with pity and make him kind to others weaker than himself. When he goes astray, turning from the justice, peace, and truth, I will gently direct him back again to the upright path, and he will be a brother again to his fellow man!”

The Father of Mercy, listened to the voice of Mercy, and with Mercy’s support, He created man.

Might one not be right in suspecting that there were times, possibly quite frequently, when the Almighty was tempted to regret His decision? When Justice was slighted, and the other fellow did not get a fair go; when people gave in to blackmail and bribery; when you were decent to others, provided they belonged to your side, but the rights of others could be trampled on with impunity. When Peace was brushed aside, and even when there was no outright war there was no concern for each other, no understanding of each other, no goodwill and generosity of thought and deed. When Truth was disdained, and the world grew full of broken promises, ambiguous half-truths and hypocritical double-talk.

And yet the angel of Mercy suggested there was a FUNDAMENTAL DECENCY in human beings which would, with her help, at last rouse itself. And THIS is where the Masonic Craft has a crucial contribution to make.

By learning to call each other “brother,” by learning to recognize a brother in every fellow man, Masonry will, by attitudes and acts, help to build up the moral fiber of mankind.

If we are going to use this impressive service in the midst of this vast assembly as a spur and inspiration to anything, let it be our resolution that we renew our pledge to learn to call each other “brother” and thus to stand at all times, and wherever we may be, for the goodness in man.

If we are going to allow the eventful experiences of these Masonic gatherings to leave a permanent impression, let it be our determination that Masonry in every jurisdiction will find fresh energy to be benevolent in the old ways, and new vigor to seek and adopt new ways to be of service to each other and to our society.

The Story of AL and the Magic Burrito

By Ill. Bro. John Moreno

Larry Tygart, Sr., 32°
Venerable Master
Denver Knights of St. Andrew

The educational presentation by Bro. Hugh Ferdows, 32°, who is a “believer in all faiths” was indeed timely and informative. The legacy of the Iranian Masons and their journey through the millennia has been, and still is, wrought with the peril of death to all those seeking enlightenment outside of the accepted clerical teachings. The ties to the origination of Zoroastrianism (see the image below) some six millennia ago, and the assemblage of Persians some four millennia ago, was and is an impressive lineage for the Masons of Iran.

The alignment of these beliefs and the lessons that are learned and have been demonstrated on the evening of the 13th of May with the public offering of the story from the 31° are, to a word, exact. The basis being: think good thoughts, say good words, and perform good deeds, and the obvious court of the dead parallel to Mithra and the Bridge of Separation.

“Like most other Divinities, Mithra is not mentioned by name in the Gathas, the oldest texts of Zoroastrianism and generally attributed to Zoroaster himself, or by name in the Yasna Haptanghaiti, a seven-verse section of the Yasna liturgy that is linguistically as old as the Gathas. As a member of the Iranian ahuric triad, a feature that only Ahura Mazda and Ahura Berezaiti (Apam Napat) also have, Mithra is an exalted figure. Together with Rashnu (“Justice”) and Sraosha (“Obedience”), Mithra is one of the three judges at the Chinvat Bridge (the “Bridge of Separation”) that all souls must cross. Unlike Sraosha, Mithra is not, however, a Psychopomp. Should the Good Thoughts, Words, and Deeds outweigh the bad, Srasosha alone conveys the soul across the Bridge.”

The Knights’ next stated meeting will be on June 6th at 6:30 p.m. and Illustrious Brother Bernie Brandel, 33°, will be providing the lecture. We invite ALL to attend as this will be our last (going dark for the summer) lecture until October, and the opportunity to enjoy discussions and harmony. Thank you again to all those who participate and make our Chapter and the Scottish Rite better.

THE PRELATE'S PULPIT

Rev. Jim Harris, 33°

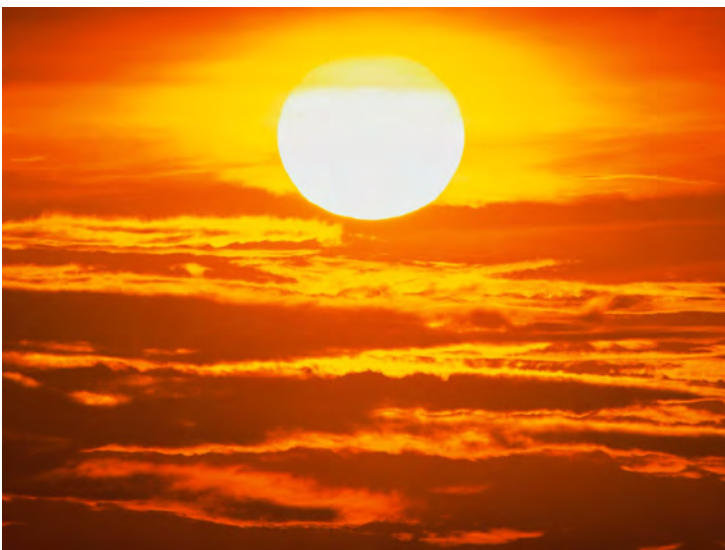

I really enjoy this time of the year. It is nice to see blue skies today (May 18th) after all the fog and rain. I need to remember the sun shines every day, however we might not see it. I was feeling a little gloomy yesterday when one of my Masonic brothers called. He was cheery and upbeat. His call picked up my spirits. Albert Schweitzer said "At times our own light goes out and is rekindled by a spark from another person. Each of us has cause to think with deep gratitude of those who have lighted the flame within us." After all the rain, the grass is really green and everything looks new. Welcome to the season of Spring. We all have those persons around us who seem to cheer us up. However, we also have those persons who seem always to be unhappy and complaining about something. They complain about the weather, about the country, about politics, about the Grand Lodge, and everything else. They can spread a lot of unhappiness.

What kind of a person are you? We had a wonderful reunion, great fellowship, good food, and fourteen new men joined the Scottish Rite. As I look at my life, it is not perfect - my wife has several health issues, I can't accomplish everything I used to be able to accomplish, I have a few health issues, and on and on. However, I am blessed in so many ways. The Supreme Architect of the Universe has been good to me. Psalm 121 tells us that our help comes from the Lord. The Bible teaches us that we are members, one of another. Isaiah tells us that the darkness cannot put out the Light. In Masonry, we are brought INTO the light.

Have a great Spring, find some newness in your life, and be a shining light. It is amazing how one small candle can light up a dark room.

Peace and Joy.
